Henfield Festival of Gardens & Arts 2022

Welcome!

Welcome to this year's Festival. Using the map in the centre fold and details under each venue or topic, make use of our wonderful maze of twittens and footpaths and discover: interesting gardens of all sizes and styles; a variety of community buildings and artists' studios, displaying a huge range of arts and crafts; a wide variety of musical performances both professional and amateur, indoors and out; and not forgetting that most essential ingredient ... refreshment! Home-cooked lunches, delicious cakes, tea, coffee and ice-cream - the Festival caters to every taste.

This event is now in its 23rd year; it has doubled in size since its inception as part of Millenium week in June 2000, and there have been many subtle changes, but it is still a community event which highlights many of Henfield's beautiful gardens, talented artists and talented musicians. Thank you especially to our sponsors.

USEFUL INFORMATION BEFORE YOU START

- Entrance to all the venues is free. Venue owners may choose to collect for a charity of their choice, and you are welcome to contribute to their charity or not as you see fit.
- Please respect the wishes of garden owners with regard to dogs, which should be kept on a lead at all times, unless otherwise specified.
- Not all venues are open on both days; check to avoid disappointment.
- The 2 public car parks in the centre will be free on both days. Walk or cycle around the trail as far as possible as parking in the village is limited. There are public toilets in the High Street.
- i on the map indicates our information point at Gallery BN5 in the High Street, where you can pick up a leaflet in the High Street and get information about the Festival.
- Gardens and community venues are numbered 1-38, with numbers showing their location on the centrefold map. All numbers are colour coded to show on which days the venues are open. Blue = open Saturday only; Red = open Sunday only; Green = open Saturday & Sunday.

Preliminary Information

-  Teas & light refreshments
-  Lunches
-  Toilet facilities available
-  Full or partial wheelchair access
-  Children's activities
-  Dogs on leads welcome
-  Art on display
-  Musical performances

COLOUR CODING OF GARDENS OPENING DAYS

-  Open on Saturday only
-  Open on Sunday only
-  Open on Saturday & Sunday

The number in each coloured circle is linked to an individual garden, and appears on the centrefold map. The numbering of the venues is not a guide to the order in which they should be visited - it is simply intended as a key to their locations on the Festival map.

For details of the musicians and their performances in the Gardens, see the "Musical Events and "Festival Musicians" pages.

For details of the artists and craftspeople exhibiting, see the "Festival Artists" pages.

The Tanyard field & the Sussex Wildlife Trust

Courtesy of the Parish Council and the Sussex Wildlife Trust, a path will be mown around the Tanyard field, as in previous Festivals. The Trust will have a display by the field on Saturday and Sunday. Please note that the field is open only from the southern, Cagefoot Lane gate and not from the northern part in Chestnut End.

The Henfield Shed

The Shed is a local charity which aims to prevent social exclusion by providing a workshop in which members make and repair products for local residents and groups. They will exhibit a range of products and take orders to make goods to your specifications. Their gazebo and display will be in the High Street, in the passageway between Southdown Galleries and the Nail Bar.
